The Finer Details:

Group-bookings are first-come, first-serve and must be booked ahead with our group coordinator to guarantee discounted rates. Your reservation does not grant exclusive use of the park, however we may accommodate an early open for larger groups (50+ participants) before public hours to allow a little more space during that time.

Visit durations include extra time for transition between activities, group orientations and a lunch or snack break. If you need more time for your visit, an additional fee or activities may be required depending on the size of your group. Some activities can only accommodate a limited number of participants at a time so we may work with your group leaders to split up your group and rotate them through multiple activities.
